

WHY

For Your Company

NAWIC?

Women are the construction workforce of the future

- As an employer, your support of NAWIC as a sponsor or by enrolling your employees as corporate chapter members will bring your company recognition as a supporter of women in the non traditional field of construction
- Your company can promote your support by using NAWIC's logo on your brochures, flyers and website.
- The company's logo will be featured on our local chapters website, with a link to your website.
- Your able to list job opening to recruit women for the company.
- Through NAWIC, your employee will increase her knowledge of industry by networking with other members employed in the construction industry
- Your employee with have a network of contacts in different types of the construction field to help answer questions or resolve issues quickly.
- Chapter meetings, regional conferences, NAWIC Annual Meeting and Educational Conferences provide opportunities to build a strong communication network, learn new skills and to broaden valuable contacts for your firm through your employee.
- Chapters participate in job fairs and conferences to recruit women who are interested in changing careers, and to provide information about educational training requirements for both traditional and nontraditional construction opportunities.
- As a NAWIC member, your employee can participate in the educational programs developed by the NAWIC education Foundation (NEF). Courses in the fundamentals of construction terminology, processes, procedures and technology provide a member with a strong, thorough overview of the industry. The following certification programs are offered through Clemson University: Certified Construction Associate (CCA), Construction Bookkeeping Technician (CBT), Construction Document Specialist (CDS) and Construction Industry Technician (CIT)